

POLITICIANS TO HAVE A CONFAB

PLANS BEING LAID FOR A STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN.

MUCH CONGRESSIONAL TALK

Cleventh District Appears to Worry the Congressional Leaders.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 15.—There promises to be something doing very shortly in the political line from one end of the state to the other. While it is certain that the campaign for re-election to the United States senate is also just as certain that this campaign will include a fight all along the line for not only the state government, but also for control of the legislature. How far this fight has gone is not certain as yet but it is certainly coming.

Had Conference.

It is known that many members of the two factions of the republican party had gatherings in Madison last Saturday. The football game was a good excuse and many rolled on this to cover the conference which were held. McGovern and Morris had a long talk, it is known, while those who were opposed to them had general plans to discuss which will include a gathering of the clubs in Milwaukee sometime in the immediate future to discuss matters.

Cook's Men Present.

The supporters of S. A. Cook were also present and the general plan of having Cook come out as the republican nominee for the governorship, and Judge Paul Carpenter of Milwaukee as the senatorial candidate of this same faction was heard on the streets.

New Line-Up.

At the time of the gathering in Milwaukee during the state fair, it was talked that Stout was to be the choice for the senatorial candidate of this faction and later it was whispered that Judge Bancroft wanted an opportunity to go on the stump in his own behalf. Later came the story that Cook would run for governor and Edmunds for the senate, or vice versa.

The State Affairs.

Throughout the state there appears to be a feeling of uncertainty. It is possible that this has been caused by the fact that so many candidates have appeared among the progressive element. Men who say they will run away. Lewis, who has given out his platform; Morris, who is said to be La Follette's choice; and McGovern, who wants La Follette's support. One of these men come from the one faction and if more than one runs it will decidedly complicate matters for the other senator.

What Davidson.

The general sentiment appears to be in favor of Governor Davidson again being a candidate. His friends advocate that if he runs it will hold the Norwegian vote of the state that would otherwise follow La Follette's lead. That he has a good campaign slogan, the finishing of the state capital which was begun during his administration and that it is a good, sound business man to handle properly. Taking it all in all the sentiment of believing that Davidson run again is growing.

Congressional Fights.

Then comes the congressional fight. With Ingalls out against Cooper in the first, already well organized in some of the old Cooper strongholds, the merry fight against the present incumbent La Follette congressman is on. In the second district it is said that Attorney-General Gilbert will run against Nelson with fair success of winning.

The Eleventh.

It is in the eleventh district, however, that the most interest is being shown in Washington. The congressional leaders want Leontoff defeated and these republican national leaders thought they had but to send on word to Wisconsin that Leontoff was obnoxious to them and that candidates would spring from every bush to oppose him in the congressional race. Instead, however, a very opposite situation has occurred.

District Strongly Leontoff.

The eleventh district is very strongly Leontoff and the national leaders do not even vote in Wisconsin. With this condition there is not anybody, apparently, who desires very strongly what looks like a hopeless cause in a candidacy before the republican primary against Mr. Leontoff. At least all the people who have had the subject broached to them have immediately hung out "buxy day" signs and told the people who have come to urge them to get into the race that they had far too much to do in their private business to think of becoming candidates before the primary election for congress in the eleventh district, and Mr. Canaan is going back to Washington for the regular session with out any discoveries along this line to report to the national leaders.

It has been hinted among a small coterie in the eleventh district who are very anxious that someone should be found to make the primary fight against Mr. Leontoff that the contest will not end with the primary election and that if no one is found to run in the primary against Mr. Leontoff the contest will be carried to the polls, and that if the democrats pick out "the right kind of man" it will be found that he will receive a great deal of republican support.

Scheme Has Been Tried Before.

This scheme has been followed in other cases in Wisconsin where a republican candidate has been nominated who was not in sympathy with the kind of republicanism desired out by Nelson W. Aldrich and others who constitute themselves at the present time interpretation sponsors for republican platforms but the game has never been successful to any great extent. It is likely the democrats of the eleventh district will make a nomination of a candidate who is only desirous of going to congress, if he goes at all, as a democratic and is not anxious to receive any political favors with the aid of voters who are republican but who are opposed to Mr. Leontoff because he has dared to offer with the people in republican platforms.

Undoubtedly one of the reasons why the republican national contingent down in Washington is so anxious to see Mr. Leontoff eliminated from the political field is his close friendship for Senator Robert Marion La Follette.

Held La Follette Responsible.

That national republican bunch held Senator La Follette responsible for most of their troubles. As has been said before, they think they could handle most of the other so-called insurgents down in Washington if it was not for Senator La Follette. He is a new species of a kind the republican whips are not accustomed to, and his independence of the orders of the republican "machine" leaders is of a character very aggravating to the "bosses," especially as they cannot help but see that it seems to be appreciated by the public.

It looks as if in the Tenth congressional district Assemblyman Thunbrecht would be the candidate to oppose Congressman Morse.

Alexander Taking No Chances.

But Mr. Alexander is becoming almost as wary of the congressional situation as he was of the senatorial candidacy which some of his friends were so anxious he should accept. There is no question Mr. Alexander would like to break into politics. He, however, does not want to take any chances of defeat and he is pretty well aware, with the sentiment against Cannon which exists in this state, that the congressmen here who dared stand up against the Cannon program stand very well with the public. In fact, while a few weeks ago Mr. Alexander was taking very kindly to mention of his name in connection with the congressional nomination, he is not taking so readily to it now, and there are a good many people around Wausau who thought a few weeks ago that Mr. Alexander was certain to make the congressional run who now have very serious doubts on the subject.

As regards the opposition to Congressman Kuehnemann in the Ninth district, it can be said that it is not as pronounced as it was a few weeks ago. It is well known throughout this district that Attorney E. A. Spencer of Appleton is very anxious to be a candidate for the republican nomination in the district. Still, Mr. Spencer is aware that a fight against Mr. Kuehnemann will not be the easiest contest in the world, and for this reason he is hesitating before he announces himself.

TUBERCULOSIS COWS MUST BE BRANDED

All Animals in Chicago Found Diseased Will Be Marked On Ear, Under New Law.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The new order of the health department, which provides for the branding of all tuberculous cows in the state went into effect today, together with other important sanitary regulations intended to put a stop to the traffic in such cows and the sale of milk from them in Chicago. Under the new regulation all cows must be subjected to the tuberculin test and the result, whether of a positive or of a negative character, reported to the State Veterinarian for approval. All animals giving a positive reaction, showing that they are afflicted with tuberculosis, will be branded upon the right ear with the letter "T".

The local health department, which has been carrying on a vigorous war against the traffic in tuberculous cows, has been largely instrumental in bringing about the adoption of energetic measures on the part of the state authorities. Beginning with today all inspection and test certificates must be approved by the State Veterinarian, and these certificates will not be recognized unless accompanied by the local health department, unless the latter is accompanied by the state official. It is expected that these stringent regulations will make the traffic in diseased cows practically impossible. Formerly many tuberculous cows were sold to dairymen and the milk from these animals was sold to consumers in Chicago, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of the local health authorities to prevent this dangerous practice.

SHOW MANY WONDERS OF ELECTRIC WORLD

Singing Arc Lamps, Multiphase Motor and Other Electric Novelties at Exhibition in Dostov.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., Nov. 15.—What is believed by many to be the most brilliant electrical display ever held on the continent, opened in Mechanics' building today, to continue for ten days. Several hundred exhibits, representing every electrical device of note in the United States, occupy the entire building. Included among the exhibits are the singing arc lamp, the rotary magnetic field, Prof. Thompson's wonderful multi-phase motor, and an electric submarine launch. Among the many novelties outside the regular exhibits is a model electrical home and farm, showing a beautifully appointed suite of rooms with every known labor-saving device, a laundry and kitchen operated by electricity, and also showing the methods of milking cows and hatching chickens by electricity.

SECOND TRIAL OF CALHOUN IS BEGUN

Honey Begins Another Attempt to Convict Street Railway Magnate of Bribery Charges.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 15.—The case of Patrick Calhoun, the street railway magnate whom District Attorney Honey declares is the "man higher up" in the alleged graft operations of Albo Reif and former Mayor Schmitz, was called for trial this morning in Judge Lawler's court. The specific charge against Calhoun is that of offering a bribe to Supervisor Fred Nicholas. This will be Calhoun's second trial. On the first trial the jury was unable to agree.

PRESIDENT TAFT DESIGNATES DATE FOR THANKSGIVING

November 25 Will Be Duly Celebrated Throughout the United States.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Nov. 15.—Thursday, November 25th, was today officially proclaimed by President Taft as Thanksgiving Day.

FIRST APPEARANCE OF NOTED ACTRESS

Mme. Meltschik To Make Debut Before American Audience At Metropolitan in New York Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Nov. 15.—What promises to be the most brilliant opera season in many years opens at the Metropolitan Opera house tonight. The opera selected for the opening night is Ponchielli's "La Gioconda," a charming work, the beauty and effectiveness of which will undoubtedly be enhanced by the excellent cast. Mme. Meltschik, one of the new acquisitions, will make her American debut on this occasion in an important part. The cast will also include Madames Destini and Homer and MM. Caruso, Anato and De Soguro. On Wednesday evening Verdi's "Otello" will be given, in which Leo Slezak, the Bohemian tenor will make his American debut. Thursday evening Mme. Lapocowka will introduce herself in Verdi's "Traviata" and on Saturday afternoon John Forrest, the baritone, will make his first appearance in Wagner's "Lohengrin."

The list of singers engaged for the season opening tonight, is the longest ever known at the Metropolitan and includes 21 sopranos, 15 contraltos, 19 tenors, 15 baritones and 11 basses. Arthur Tappan and Alfred Corti are to divide between them the work of conducting. The chorus consists of a total of 250 voices, including the twenty pupils of the chorus school conducted in connection with the opera house. A ballet corps of sixty members will be one of the features of the season.

CIVIC LEADERS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Dr. Eliot and Other Noted Speakers to Deliver Addresses at Meeting of Civic Federation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Channah, O., Nov. 15.—Several hundred delegates, among whom are city officials and municipal authorities from all over the country, have assembled in Channah to take part in the sixteenth annual meeting of the National Municipal League and the fifth annual meeting of the American Civic Association. The joint gathering opens at the Clinton hotel tonight with addresses of welcome by Governor Harmon, Mayor Garvin and Dr. Eliot. Pendleton and addresses by Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore and J. Horace McFarland of Harrisburg, president of the Municipal League and the Civic Association, respectively.

During the next three days there will be two sessions daily, at which papers will be read and discussions held on various phases of municipal activity, with a daily "round table conference" at the luncheon hour and a dinner to the members and delegates Wednesday evening. The conference on the prosecution of graft tomorrow morning, and the conference on franchise problems Thursday morning, are expected to bring out some interesting discussions. Other subjects to receive attention include the commission form of government, public health, direct nominations, municipal budgets and research, immigration, and the regulation of the liquor question to municipal affairs.

MUSKRATS WERE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Game Warden Gets Busy on the Evansville Marsh.

William Tugart and Hazen Bell, both of Evansville, appeared in municipal court this morning, pleaded guilty to a charge of taking muskrats out of season and paid a fine of $25 and costs amounting in each case to $50.50. Both men were arrested last Saturday by Game Warden Nick Johnson. They made no attempt to contest the case, Tugart readily admitting even before the animals, but stated that he thought the law ran out on the tenth of the month whereas it continues in force until the fifteenth.

TAFT OPENS APPLE SHOW IN SPOKANE

President Touches Button Flashing Signal For Opening of Big Exposition Across Country.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 15.—The second national apple show was opened here this morning with auspicious success. President Taft, at exactly ten o'clock Pacific time, touched an electric button in Washington, flashing the signal for the opening of the exposition across the continent. President Howard Elliott, of the Northern Pacific, who is also president of the Apple show, delivered a brief address at the formal opening of the exposition. The show is the largest and most remarkable of its kind ever held in this country and it is expected that during the week many thousands of fruit growers, promotorists and dealers will visit the show, which will close on Saturday evening.

The show occupies the building of the Washington state armory, a three-story building with about 100,000 square feet of floor-space and an enormous tent, 225 by 300 feet, which is provided with steam heat. Prizes amounting to a total of $25,000 will be awarded. The chief prize of $1500 will be awarded in the earlaid class. This calls for 630 boxes or 210 barrels of commercial winter apples of one or more standard varieties. There will also be earlaid competitions on twelve varieties, contests in barrels, box, earlaid, basket, jar and plate displays, in addition to special contests for models and dioramas.

Apples of every known variety, from the New England states, the middle West and the enormous fruit districts west of the Rockies, are on exhibition and the show is far superior in every respect to the first one held in December of last year. The total number of specimens is estimated at two millions.

National Fruit Show Opens. Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 15.—The ninth annual fruit show in conjunction with the meeting of the National Horticultural Congress, for which preparations have been making for nearly a year, opened in this city today under most promising auspices. The exhibition and the show is far superior in every respect to the first one held in every state and territory of the Union and various sections of Canada and Mexico.

DEDICATE SHAFT TO BAY STATE SOLDIERS

Magnificent Monument Put Up in Baiton Rouge By State Of Massachusetts Dedicated Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baiton Rouge, La., Nov. 15.—In the presence of a representative of both the Union and Confederate armies, a magnificent monument commemorating the valor of the soldiers of Massachusetts who are buried in the Baiton Rouge national cemetery was dedicated today.

Governor Draper of Massachusetts and his staff and a delegation of citizens who served in Massachusetts regiments during the war were present. Mayor Bynum of Baiton Rouge delivered addresses of welcome, Rev. T. M. Hunter offered prayer, and Gen. Charles H. Taylor of Boston delivered the oration. The memorial was accepted by Capt. A. D. King, superintendent of the national cemetery. Miss Lena Remington of Somerville, Mass. and Miss Sallie Sanders of Baiton Rouge unveiled the shaft. "America" and other patriotic songs sung by school children enlivened the program. The monument, which is the first to be erected by any state in memory of their dead in the Baiton Rouge cemetery, was erected under a provision of the Massachusetts legislature. The memorial is of Quincy granite and stands over 40 feet high.

Meeting of Bill Stickers.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 15.—Members of the Middle Atlantic States Bill Posters and Distributors' association have gathered up in this city for their annual convention. The gathering will be in session several days, during which time a number of questions of importance to the membership will be discussed.

AWFUL CRIME OF AN UNKNOWN MAN NEAR URMILLION

Murdered Woman of the House and Was Killed by Husband With Club.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Urmillion, R. D., Nov. 15.—An unknown man had attacked Albert Nelson and wife with a razor in their home 25 miles from Urmillion today, he killed the woman and fatally wounded Nelson and was himself killed by the farmer. The man was hanged Saturday night to a tree and was taken into the Nelson home. During the night Nelson and his wife were aroused by someone in the bedroom. The man began slapping at them with a razor. He succeeded in killing Mrs. Nelson and slashed Nelson fearfully. Before Nelson fell he struck the intruder with a club and killed him. Robbery is suspected as the motive.

DENIES APPEAL IN NOTED CASE OF LABOR MEN

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Are Refused Stay in Proceedings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia today denied the application made by the counsel for Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, sentenced to jail for contempt, for a stay in the issuance of the mandate to the supreme court of the District of Columbia up to January 2, 1910. Unless a notice of appeal is given before next Friday night the mandate will be handed down next Saturday.

BOY WAS KILLED BY AN ACCIDENTAL SHOT

Handed Gun to Companion to Shoot at Mark and Bullet Entered His Side.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Superior, Nov. 15.—Jimmy Lord, a thirteen-year-old boy living at Folsom Springs, Minn., was accidentally shot while hunting deer yesterday. With other boys he was shooting at a target at the time. He handed his gun, loaded, to Henry Peterson of Superior, to fire. The lad accidentally pulled the trigger and the bullet entered the boy's side, death resulting shortly afterward.

ILLINOIS ODD FELLOWS MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

Grand Lodge of Order Assembled Today for Annual Session at State Headquarters.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 15.—Three thousand delegates and visitors are in Springfield for the annual session of the grand lodge I. O. O. F., the grand encampment and the Rebekah sisters. The gathering was opened today with a session of the grand lodge in the assembly chamber of the state capital. In addition to choosing officers for the year the grand lodge will be called upon to decide the question of removing the state headquarters of the order from Springfield to some other city. Peoria is making an active campaign to secure the headquarters.

RAILWAY COMMISSION HASTENING ACTION

City Attorney Mayfield Receives Letter From McGeehan Announcing Steps Taken.

That within a short time definite steps to bring up for a hearing the complaint of the city of Janesville against the Janesville Water company, before the state railway commission now seems certain. City Attorney Mayfield this morning received a letter from the commission stating that the report of the commission's engineers relative to the tentative value of the two plants was now being prepared. Mr. Mayfield was assured that there will be no unnecessary delay in the matter and it is probable the cases will come up for a hearing in December.

ARREST BELOIT MAN FOR BEATING WIFE

Henry Meehan Likely to Be Sent to Penitentiary for Cruelty to His Sick Spouse.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 15.—Henry Meehan, a middle-aged man, is under arrest for cruelly beating his wife and the indications are that he will go to the penitentiary. He has maltreated her and she was sent to the county poor farm, where her baby was born. She is in a delicate condition and the abuse she received from the brute may result seriously. Meehan was arrested after a forceful knockdown fight with the Chief of Police and other officers.

Hoosiers Won: The Third Ward

Hoosiers beat the Fourth Ward Tigers in a hard scrimmage football game at Athletic Park Saturday by a score of 6 to 2.

LITTLE HOPE OF ANY ALIVE

Mine Is Still on Fire and Smoke Makes It Impossible to Go Far From the Openings to Examine the Shafts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 14.—There is apparently but little hope that any of the three hundred odd miners still entombed in the shaft of the burning mine are alive. In fact, the rescuers have been unable to explore more than a few feet beyond the shaft entrance.

Still on Fire.

The rescuers went down three times equipped with all the latest means of fighting the flames which fill the shafts and reached the second vein, but were unable to proceed further.

Is Caving In.

They report the walls and sides of the shafts are caving in and that the fire are not yet out, the smoke being most intense. They were forced to come to the surface after having been under ground but a short time.

No Exploration.

They were able only to go a few feet

When Man is Useless.
It must be admitted, painful though it be, that the hidden cause in man's insignificant role in the structure of the universe. Taken for granted the axiom that man as man has absolutely no right to exist, his only claim to life lies in his power of being agreeable to woman and of serving her. If she does not do this he is useless and unnecessary.—Catherine D. Groth, in Harper's Weekly.

Quite a Shock.
Bridgroom (expectantly)—Now, my dear father-in-law, I wish to say just a word about my debts.—Father-in-law (slapping him on the back)—Did you say debts? Why, my boy, I'll bet my debts exceed yours three to one!—Fleegande Blotter.

Mrs. Jones: "You ought to see the fine, heavy, fleeced-lined, seamless furson hose I bought today for seventeen cents. I also bought the best children's heavy fleeced-lined bicycle hose I ever got, two pairs for a quarter."

Mrs. Smith: "Where?"

Mrs. Jones: "Down at Norton's bargain counters."

Mrs. Smith: "Oh, yes. I've heard that that store has nothing but bargains in it. I'll go down with you tomorrow to Norton's bargain counters."

GREAT STRIKE MAY TIE UP RAILROADS

Increased Wages Demanded by Employees on Forty-Two Systems May Be Refused.

Unless the demands made by engineers and trainmen recently are granted by the roads affected, there is a strong possibility that the coming winter will see a general strike that will tie up forty-two western railroad systems. Advances in wages ranging from 20 to 100 per cent are included in the demands of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and prominent officials admit that the men may go out if the roads decide to refuse their demands.

Figures that the employees of the forty-two systems contemplated such action have been about for some time, but nothing definite had been given out by union officials. At present only roads west of Chicago are affected, but it is hinted that later employees of eastern lines will follow the example of their western brethren and ask for increases in wages.

The notices which have been sent to the western roads ask that a 20 per cent increase be given to trainmen and firemen employed in passenger service. All men in through, irregular and local freight service, including local and mixed freight service, ask for a 25 per cent increase, the cold weather hinders demanding that they receive 100 per cent more than they did last winter. Firemen on switch-engines, hostlers and dispatchers on lines where wages are negotiated by the brotherhoods of locomotive firemen and railway trainmen have entered a demand on the roads that they be granted an increase of 25 per cent.

A new feature of the present demands is a clause which will grant the right to any employee who feels that he has been wronged or ill-treated by another employee of the same road, no matter whether the man accused is his equal or superior, to appeal to any official of the road, not even barring the president of the system.

What is thought by railroad officials as an index to the sentiment among the railroad trainmen generally regarding electrification of the American railroads, both on main and branch lines, as well as suburban service in the large cities, is contained in a clause of the demands which states that the word engineer shall be construed as including electric and motor engineer, and the word fireman shall include helpers on electric or motor engines.

It is thought that the recent action will be included in the thirty day rule and action is not expected on the part of the systems affected by the trainmen and firemen much before the middle of December.

NEW SWITCHING SYSTEM MAKES BIGGER PAYROLL

Comparison of a Two-Week Period Under Old and New System Shows Increase.

That the new system of handling freight in Janesville, with its increase in the number of yardmasters and switch-engines, has one serious drawback, increased expense, was shown by the expense report for switching, made out for the first two weeks in November. This period, which can be called a tryout of the new method, cost the company $1,750 in wages for switchmen, engineers engaged in switching in the yards, and wages for those engaged in taking care of through and local freight traffic. Under the old system, for the last two weeks of October, the cost was $534. This increase of $1,216 does not include the wages of two brakemen who have acted as car clerks or of one conductor who worked nights as train master at the belt line. Whether or not the new system has shown an increase in efficiency large enough to warrant the extra expense, remains to be seen.

WILL INSTALL A TELEPHONE IN SWITCH-TENDER'S SHANTY

Among the orders issued by Trainmaster S. A. Morrison on his last visit to this city was one to the effect that the switch-tender's shanty at the five points should be connected with the company's telephone system. In the past and at the present time, as well, the switch-tender has had no means of knowing the exact time when they happen to be late. With the amount of switching that is going on at all times at the five points, this has caused no little inconvenience and a great deal of danger. With a telephone, if a train is late and a switch-engine wishes to cross, it can easily be learned how much time can be used. The trainmaster also issued strict orders to John O'Grady that no one outside of employees of the road was to be allowed to enter the shanty.

Louis F. Tice, storekeeper at the new yards, has given up his position at Janesville and will go to Fond du Lac where he formerly acted in the same capacity. John Murphy, who has acted as his assistant, has also resigned. George Mason of Milwaukee has been appointed to succeed Mr. Tice.

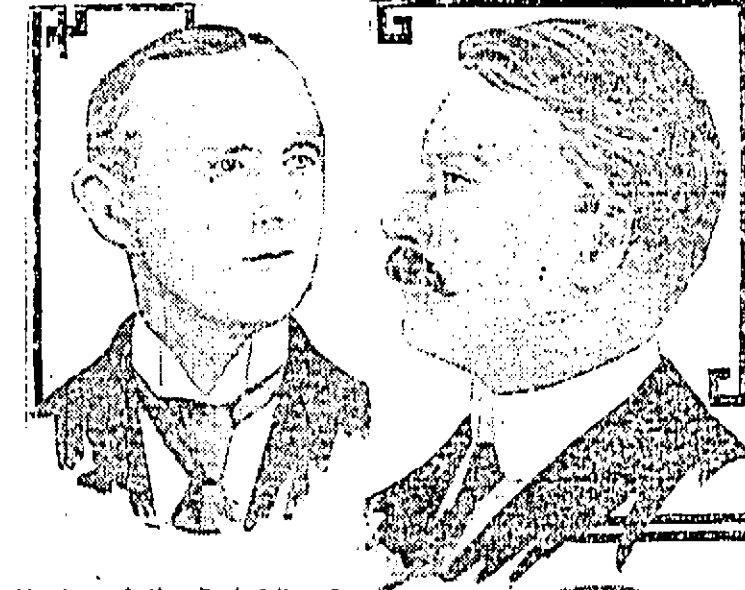

Engine 8377 came up from Chicago double-headed on 585 last night and went on the motor car runs today in place of the 517, which was turned over to the Madison division.

Switchman Roy Horn is acting as day yardmaster at the new yards in place of Jerry Carroll, who went to Chicago yesterday.

Engineer Cole is laying off on account of sickness.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Engineer Ottaway brought in engine 320 from the east on an extra this morning at 5:45. The 320 is a brand new engine, similar to the R1 type on the C. & N. W. Ry. and is used almost exclusively in the coast extension. The West Milwaukee shops are turning out on an average of two of these engines daily.

New York—The importance of the hook worm was brought direct to the attention of the public through John D. Rockefeller's gift of $1,000,000 to fight this disease.

It was only a few months ago that the public looked upon the hook worm as a myth and no end of jokes were made out of that form of madness which is now analyzed as a disease. The commission as appointed by Mr. Rockefeller is composed of men of national and international reputation in their chosen field of activities and it is certain that if there is any remedy for the plague in the south lands this commission will find it and successfully fight the disease. The commission selected includes the following:

Dr. William H. Welch, professor of pathology in Johns Hopkins university, president of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

Dr. Charles W. Stiles, chief of the division of zoology, United States public health and marine hospital service, and discoverer of the American species of hook worm and the prevalence of the disease in America.

Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia.

Dr. David P. Houston, chancellor of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Prof. P. P. Claxton, professor of education in the University of Tennessee.

J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of education in North Carolina and president of the National Educational Association.

gent brought in switch-engine 1044 light from the west yesterday afternoon for repairs.

Engineer Schickler and Fireman Harter went west on an extra this morning at 11:30 with engine 173.

Fireman Seltz is on the switch-engine today with Engineer James.

Engineer Meyer and Fireman Mc-Auliffe took 91 out this morning.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Rooney went west on an extra yesterday noon with engine 850.

E. A. Prudenburg, traveling passenger and freight agent for the Great Northern, is in the city today.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

Don't fret over adversity; it is not the so-called blessings of life, its sunshine and calm and pleasant experiences, that make men, but its rugged experiences, its storms, tempests, and trials. All sunshine makes the desert, and it will make a desert of your life. The school of adversity graduates the ablest pupils, and the hill of difficulty is the seat of all "constitutional" backbones. Want, confinement, opposition, roughness alternating with smoothness, difficulty with ease, storm with sunshine, sorrow with joy—these constitute the discipline of life, the education which makes a man of a being who would otherwise be little better than a lobster.

If you risk nothing, you can, of course, lose nothing; sowing no hopes you cannot suffer from the blight of disappointment. If you enlist for the war expect to meet the foe; be prepared not only for the contest, but for its consequences. Then look adversity boldly in the face; it will turn covering away from you. It is with life's troubles as with the risks of the battlefield: there is always less of aggregate danger to the party that stands firm than to that which gives way—the cowards being always cut down ingloriously in the fight.

Transmitting Photographs.

A new method of transmitting photographs to a distance has recently been devised. A gelatine negative is used, in which the picture is formed in relief. A stylus travels over the uneven surface of the negative and operates a rheostat in the main line. At the receiving station a luminous ray plays over a sensitized plate, and the intensity of the light is varied by the rheostat. The reliefs and hollows of the original are thus reproduced in light and shadow on the sensitized medium, and form the picture. This method of transmitting pictures was recently tried with success on the line between Paris and Lyons.

Sterilizing Water Supply.

For sterilizing a city's water supply the novel plan is proposed of using powerful mercury-vapor lamps with quartz tubes, which should be so placed that every particle of water should remain two minutes within a few inches of a lamp. The large proportion of ultraviolet rays was shown in 1903 to have great germ-destroying properties. Recently Courmont and Nogier have proven that most disease bacteria in water within 12 inches of a lamp are destroyed in one minute, and that much contaminated water is completely sterilized in two minutes.

The Difference.

When we are young we make up our minds to try and get what we want; when we have arrived at years of discretion we decide to try and get what we can get.—Jerome K. Jerome.

A Missouri Epitaph.

A north Missouri editor says he saw this on a moss-grown tombstone: "Here lies our wife, Samantha Proctor, who kitched a cold and wouldn't doctor. She could not stay, she had to go; praise God from whom all blessings flow."—Kansas City Star.

The Helping Hand.

Visitor—"Heavens! What's that infernal noise, dear boy?" Parlor Socialist—"Only the 12 o'clock whistle, old chap. I have too much sympathy for my fellow workmen to have a mere ornamental chime clock in my drawing room."—Puck.

The Rural Cynic.

"Hard work," said the ready-made philosopher, "brings the greatest happiness in life." "Yes," answered Farmer Cornetwell, "especially when you kin afford to hire somebody to do it for you."

OUR POLICY

You know that we are not in business for our health. We couldn't afford to be. But we also want you to know that we don't expect to amass a fortune in a day. Your continued patronage is of more value to us than an excessive profit on your purchase of today. We want your continued patronage. That's why we are satisfied with a small margin of profit.

We do not substitute. We give you honest merchandise at an honest price. If we do not have in stock the article you ask for, we will get it for you, regardless of trouble or expense to us. We want not only customers, but pleased customers.

Above all we want to impress you with that word Reliable. It's more than a part of our firm name. We want you to give us an opportunity to prove the thorough reliability of every article in our stock in regard to quality as well as price.

We believe that the better you get acquainted with this store the better you will like to trade here.

MRS. SUSAN RUSSELL IS CALLED BY DEATH

One of the Pioneer Residents of Janesville Passed Away on Saturday.

Saturday afternoon last Mrs. Susan Russell, the oldest resident of Janesville, was called by the angel of death, after an illness which has lasted for over a year past. In the death of Mrs. Russell the city loses its oldest resident, her children a loving mother, her many friends a cherished companion, and her family an earnest counsellor and Christian friend. Few who came in contact with her will forget her many acts of kindness and her death will be most sincerely mourned.

Mrs. Susan Russell was born in Frederic, Maryland, in 1810, and she came to Janesville with her husband in 1841, settling a short time after her arrival here. In her late home, 222 East Milwaukee street, where she has lived for the past sixty-six years. While the house has been remodeled and altered during this period it stands on the same foundations as when she began her married life there.

Janesville was a pioneer colony when Mrs. Russell came and she has watched with pleasure the growth from the early days to the present city. Always keeping in close touch with the outside world she has told many interesting stories of the early struggles of the first handful of inhabitants and the visits of the Indians, the hauling of huge wagons of grain to the city mart and the floating of the logs down the Rock river to the lumber mills here.

Her daughter, Miss Helen Russell, who died in 1882, was the first girl born in the city. Two daughters, Miss Emily Russell and Mrs. Ada C. Coff, and two sons, Alvin P. Russell and Thomas H. Russell; two grandsons, Charles M. Russell of Madison and Alexander A. Russell of this city, and a granddaughter, Miss Gertrude Russell of Madison are the immediate family left to mourn her loss.

Three sisters of Mrs. Russell, Mrs. George Tarrant of Durand, Mrs. Katherine Matteson, and Mrs. Mary Fox of White, South Dakota; a brother, Garrett Rooney of Cheltenham, Ohio survive her.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock from her late residence, and will be private. Rev. John McKimney of Christ church will officiate.

Mrs. T. R. Monticelli
Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lowe have returned from Milwaukee, where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. T. R. Monticelli and daughter, Phoebe. Mrs. Monticelli, Neo Grace Thornton, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Thornton, who until two years ago, resided in this city. Mrs. Monticelli was twenty-three years of age. She was married November 25, 1907, to Thomas R. Monticelli. She leaves her husband and three brothers.

A Ludicrous Experiment.

Holmes was one of the many eminent men who have attempted to solve the riddle of the universe. In his case the result was ludicrous.

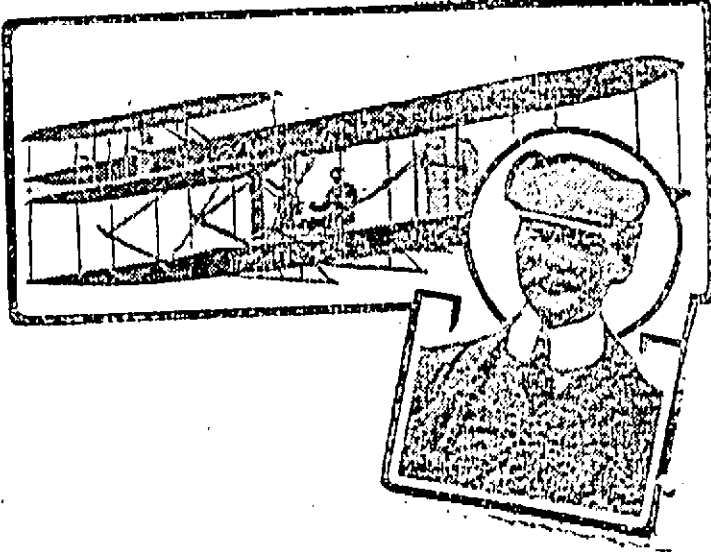

From the sublime thoughts that came to him while under the influence of chloroform he thought he might arrive at some solution. Placing himself in his armchair, with pen, ink and paper at hand, he inhaled the anesthetic.

As drowsiness stole over him the nature of things seemed revealed. By a vigorous effort he seized his pen and wrote—he knew not what, for before he had finished he fell back unconscious.

When he recovered he turned with trembling anxiety to the sheet of paper, on which, written in scrawling characters but quite legible, he found the awful revelation: "A strong smell of turpentine pervades the whole!"

THE HERO OF PARIS.

Count De Lambert and his Wright machine in which he circled Eiffel tower.

Paris.—All France is doing and doing Count De Lambert for his sensational flight over Paris when he circled Eiffel tower for the first time in a heavier-than-air flying machine. In reality it was a triumph for the Wright brothers of America, for it was their machine which turned the trick and which has again demonstrated more forcibly than ever before the strong points of the Wright brothers' invention. De Lambert feat also demonstrated the practicability of the use of the aeroplane as a means of modern warfare.

The count is the hero of the hour in Paris. Scores of congratulatory dinners and receptions have been arranged. The French Aero Club has voted him a gold medal for his flight and scientific societies are planning to honor him.

INDIGESTION, GAS ON STOMACH OR HEARTBURN WILL SIMPLY VANISH

Your out-of-order Stomach feels the five minutes after taking a little Diapensin.

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pappe's Diapensin and realize not only immediate but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pappe's Diapensin and take a dose just as soon as you can.

There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal cramping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with miasms.

Pappe's Diapensin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drugstore.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

THE RECALL

The Milwaukee Journal in its frantic efforts to regulate everything in sight is conducting a campaign against the commission plan of government, and especially against the Wisconsin law which provides for this new form of municipal administration.

One of the glaring defects of this law, according to the Journal, is the omission of the recall feature and the California law is cited as a model of consistency and perfection. The fact is overlooked that under this law the city of Los Angeles had three mayors in three weeks, an experience which any city is likely to repeat under the recall provision.

The men who drafted the Wisconsin law knew what they were about when this dangerous feature was omitted. They recognized the fact that city rule by a small commission meant many radical changes in policy and method.

They also knew that these changes from all-poll to business methods would result in making enemies, and that a small combination of these forces could secure a petition demanding the recall of one or all of the commissioners, which would mean another election.

The second election would result in a commission handicapped from the beginning, and nothing would be accomplished. The recall thwarts the object for which the law was created and destroys the ambition for a businesslike administration.

A commission, to be successful, must have the moral support of the people. It should not be subject to the whims and caprices of special interests, and this is what the Wisconsin law contemplates. Elect three competent men and then stand by them and give them a chance to do something. The recall is a menace and it is well that it is not a feature of the Wisconsin law.

It would be a good thing for the country if the president was elected for eight years, the governors of states for six years, and the mayors of cities for the same length of time.

Less politics and more business is what is needed, and there are so many more people engaged in business and useful occupations than in politics that they are entitled to a hearing.

The commission plan of government provides a six-year term for mayor, and year-year terms for the two commissioners. This means, after the first election the electing of one man every two years and the electing of a mayor and one commissioner every six years.

It is what the city of Boston calls a short ballot and is endorsed by the people of that city because it is free from politics, and because ward boundary lines are abolished.

The people vote at large for the one or two men to be elected, and there is no danger of bad men being elected. The Wisconsin law is all right and will work out well in practice.

MOB LAW

The city of Cairo, Illinois, has not only disgraced itself, but the state as well, and while no defense can be offered for the man who committed the heinous crime, neither can anything be said in defense of the spirit of frenzy and thirst for blood which influenced men and women to perpetrate a crime equally revolting.

Mob law means the total disregard of all law and this means anarchy. Cairo, with its 76 saloons and numerous dens of vice, has long been noted for wickedness and lawlessness and the city is reaping a harvest from well cultivated soil.

The eager desire for souvenirs of the dastardly crime is an index to the standard of humanity to say nothing of moral issues involved. Something to gloat over as the reminder of a deed from which people turn away with loathing and disgust.

No bloodhound ever scented a trail with more ferocious longing than the people who turned out en masse to seek vengeance on their victim, and this in an age of enlightenment when the American people are supposed to be capable of self-government.

The city of Cairo needs cleaning up from center to circumference, and if local authorities lack the disposition and ability to do it, the state can well afford to lend a hand.

THE PETITION

The petition asking for a special election to vote on the question of a commission plan of government was presented to the mayor today, signed by more than 600 voters. But little effort has been made to circulate these petitions and double the number of signatures could have been secured had the names been necessary.

The law provides that the petitions must be signed by 25 per cent of the votes recorded for mayor at the last election, which was 22,000. This means that 550 names were necessary.

One peculiar fact developed in securing these names, and that was that the shop men and factory men are better informed on the new law than the average businessman, showing that they have read the law and much that has been published concerning it.

When the fact is considered that a large majority of these men are taxpayers it speaks well for the intelligence of the city. The discussion that will follow during the next 60 days will be animated and enlightening, and when the time comes to vote on the question, there will be no excuse for ignorance.

There are always two sides to a question, and people honestly differ concerning the new plan of city government. The columns of the Gazette are open to a free discussion. If there are serious objections they should be brought out. The advantages also should be fully explicated.

Every taxpayer is interested in a business administration, and every citizen desires to promote the welfare of the city. If the proposed change is a good one the people are entitled to it. If there are serious objections they should be stated and carefully discussed.

The mine horror at Cherry, Illinois, where more than 300 men lost their lives, adds one more to the long list of tragedies. The mine, which was the property of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, was supposed to be one of the safest places in the country. Every precaution had been taken against accident, but when fire broke out in the underground stables the unfortunate men were doomed.

The horror of the tragedy was intensified when a dozen rescuers were suffocated in a cage at the bottom of the shaft.

The president is back at his desk with plenty of work in sight. That there are some breakers ahead, requiring good government to successfully handle the ship of state, is readily recognized, but the president is not a novice and if he falls it will be his first failure. The people are with him and will stand by him, as the little group of disgruntled agitators will discover as time goes on. It is a serious thing to question either the motives or judgment of a president and especially of a man of President Taft's caliber.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE HINGES OF HISTORY.

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the invention of the steamboat by Fulton brought out some interesting reflections.

One incident in the life of Fulton which is not generally known closely touched the career of the great Napoleon Bonaparte and is not without its lessons.

Every schoolboy knows about the failure of Napoleon to cross the English channel with his sailing ships and thus invade England, with which country he was nearly always at war.

At great expense the French general fitted out a large war fleet, and then he waited day after day and week after week for a favorable wind—in vain.

While he was thus eating out his heart in impatience Robert Fulton sought an audience with him.

This American citizen wanted a chance to demonstrate to the emperor the possibility of navigating vessels by steam and regardless of winds and waves.

Napoleon said: "Tell him I'll give him just a minute."

It is evident from the sequel the impatient and hurried Napoleon gave but little more than the minute to the explanation of Fulton, and his mind was probably far away during the time.

Such are the hinges upon which the gates of history have sometimes turned.

It is not strange, perhaps, that most of his fellow countrymen should have called the inventor's experimental boat "Fulton's folly."

But it is rather strange that the great Napoleon, who seldom overlooked a chance and who was hospitable in his treatment of new ideas, should have given Robert Fulton such scant attention.

Had the emperor heeded he might have succeeded in his invasion and changed the course of empire.

It is just as well for posterity that Napoleon turned Fulton down.

It was better that the man who killed the doctrine of the divine right of kings should have met his fate amid the snows of a Russian winter and at Waterloo.

But the lessons are on the surface of the story itself.

One is this: If you have something that is really worth while, do not be discouraged because the great or the influential fail to see its merits.

And the other is: No man, however big, can afford to overlook a helpful suggestion from any source, however humble.

BANKNOTE TESTER

Holds Bill Where It Can Be Viewed Through Magnifying Glass.

For the purpose of better detecting counterfeit notes a New York woman has invented a testing apparatus which holds the note under the vision of a strong magnifying glass. The device closely resembles the old-fashioned stereopticon. First there is a long arm with a handle at one end and a magnifying glass mounted above the handle. The other end holds a supporting frame with spring pressed arms and hooks at the top of two uprights. Extending above the grooved rail that holds the note is a wire to keep the note from bending to the center. When there is any suspicion about the genuineness of a bill it is the work of a few minutes to adjust the note in the stand and inspect it carefully under the glass. The most skillful counterfeit will not stand this test. The value of such a device in banks and other places where a great deal of money is handled will be readily seen.

NOTABLE SCENE WAS ENACTED IN COURT

Supreme Court Passed Judgment on Prisoner's Guilty of Contempt in Person.

Washington, D. C., November 15.—This was the second time in the history of the supreme court of the United States that that august body had imposed a sentence upon citizens, held guilty of disregarding its mandates. The previous occasion was in another generation.

Heading the little group of six men, found guilty of contempt, as they took their places before the black-robed justices, was Captain Joseph H. Shipp, the sheriff in Chattanooga, Tenn., when he offended the court.

His tall, straight figure, his seemed face and his gray-streaked beard, told of his long service in the army of the Confederacy.

Based down under his 76 years, Jeremiah Gibson, the father, stood with him. With beamed eyes he looked upon the long white locks of the chief justice, himself 76 years of age, who would soon pronounce sentence upon him, perhaps send him to prison. He and Captain Shipp had been found guilty of failing to protect a negro, waiting to be hanged on a charge of a heinous crime against a white woman, after the supreme court of the United States had stayed his execution.

Luther Williams, Nick Nolan, Henry Duggitt and William Mayes, residents of Chattanooga, found guilty of participation in the lynching of Ed Johnson, formed the rest of the group. Before them all sat the officials of the Department of Justice. Around about them in the little court room were their attorneys and other lawyers, while the three rows of seats for spectators were crowded.

The proceedings were practically without precedent. In 1875, John Shilley, a business man of Texas, was brought before the court for contempt in connection with dealings in Texas indemnity bonds, contrary to an order of the supreme court. He was fined $250. But that instance lacked the interest of the case today. In it were involved no race question, no lynching, no interference with state jurisdiction; only the majesty of the law as interpreted by the highest court of the land.

The case originated in the court's decision in March, 1906, to consider the appeal of Johnson, from a verdict of the Tennessee courts holding him guilty and sentencing him to be hanged on a charge of assault. The night after the determination of the supreme court to review the proceedings was wired to Chattanooga, a mob stormed the jail, took the prisoner out, and lynched him.

The court was much incensed by the lynching, and at its instance the attorney general instituted proceedings against Sheriff Shipp, James Gibson and twenty-five others supposed to have been implicated in the lynching, charging them with contempt. Many of the accused were exonerated, and in the end only six were found guilty.

The finding of the court was announced in May, just before the close of the last term of court, but all the defendants entered motions of rehearing, which had the effect of postponing action this fall. On Nov. 1 rehearing was denied and the six men ordered before the court for sentence today.

In investigating the case the supreme court found that Johnson was removed from Chattanooga to Nashville before his trial, because of fear that he would be lynched. He was brought back for the legal execution. When the supreme court stayed the execution, the court has held: Shipp made no effort and gave no orders to have the deputies or others guard the jail, but left the night jailer, Gibson, there alone. That evening a white mob entered the jail, leaving only Johnson and a white woman on that floor. The court pointed out that this same man had been removed in the same way at the time of the first attempt to lynch Johnson, which had been frustrated by the removal of the negro.

Shipp lived only a few blocks from the jail and when he was notified by the trial judge and the prosecuting attorney that a mob was at the jail, went there alone. Although for an hour in the midst of or near the mob, the court held he did not seek to obtain information so that he could identify any of its members.

The court in finding Shipp guilty commented on a published interview alleged to have been had with Shipp. "The people of Hamilton county were willing to let the law have its course until it became known that the case would not probably be disposed of for four or five years by the supreme court of the United States," it quoted Shipp as saying. "But the people would not submit to this, and I do not wonder at it."

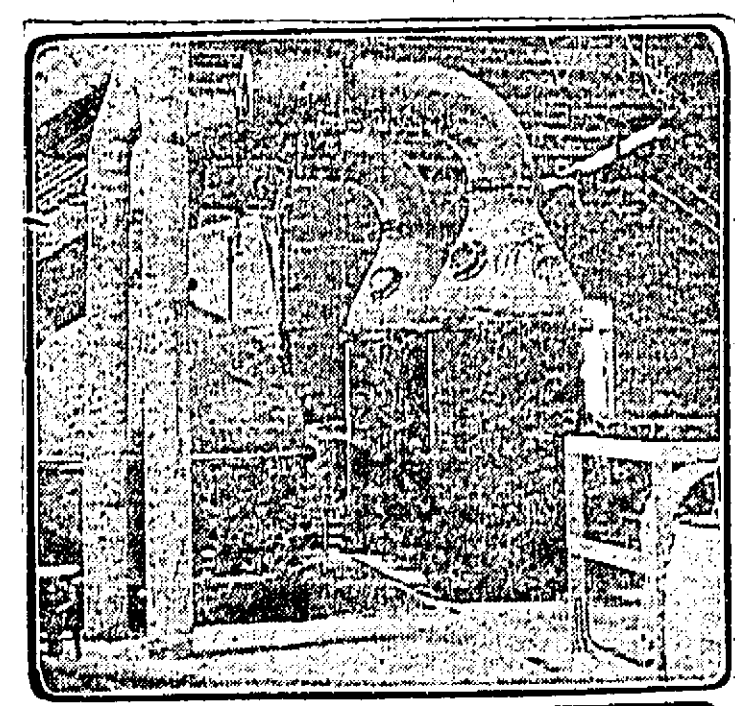

Chief Justice Fuller in pronouncing Shipp guilty said that this reference to "people" was significant, "for he was a candidate for reelection and had been told that his saving the prisoner from the first attempt to mob him would cost him his place, and he had answered that he wished the mob had got him before he did."

The court held that Gibson must have believed a mob would attack the jail the night Johnson was lynched, but although he was in charge of the jail more than two hours before its arrival, he made no effort to summon assistance to repel the attack. The testimony of Mrs. Baker, a white prisoner, to the effect that Gibson told her before the mob arrived that it was coming and for her to go to her cell, was referred to.

Williams and Nolan participated in the lynching, the court held upon the strength of direct testimony to that effect. Statements made by Duggitt and Mayes were held as evidence of their guilt.

History Lesson. Diogenes, dear children, was the man who lived in a tub, and who searched for an honest man. "I'm honest," cried a candidate for reelection. "Where's your tub?" asked Diogenes. "Look at my barrel!" cried the candidate. But Di went on hunting.

RAW MILK WITHOUT BACTERIA. Plant Apparatus for Reducing Skim Milk into Nourishing Solids Without W. Coler, Public Health Officer of Rochester, N. Y., Who Opposes Pasteurizing of Milk.

New York.—One of the most vital problems presented to the medical men and philanthropists now fighting tuberculosis is the age-old milk problem. Numerous have been the methods devised within the past quarter of a century tending to the bacteria contained in the ordinary product as it comes from the dairy. Possibly the most successful of these has been pasteurization, which it was believed for a time had solved the much mooted problem, but no longer have we the satisfied assurance that deadly bacteria has by this method been annihilated.

Dr. Thomas Darlington Heath, commissioner of New York city, Dr. Rowland G. Freeman, Dr. Louis Fisher, Dr. E. J. Lohman and Dr. George W. Coler, public health officer of Rochester, N. Y., are numbered among the medical men of national reputation who declare that pasteurizing merely destroys the germ which causes milk to sour, but does not protect it from the infection and breeding of countless microbes of filth and disease. They further unite in declaring that the cooking of milk in this way or heating of milk by any method beyond the temperature at which it leaves the cow results in its becoming dead milk and its food value absolutely destroyed.

A small body of well-known physicians and specialists of New York have recently announced a process for preserving milk which has attracted considerable attention and which it would seem has solved this exceedingly serious problem. The new process provides for the preservation of milk in an absolutely raw state and in powdered form. It is claimed the method destroys the disease germs without the milk being heated and therefore without its food value being impaired.

This new process should prove a boon to the dairy industry of the United States, as it is said that in this way the enormous quantity of skim milk which is annually thrown away or fed to swine may be utilized to advantage. As 10 per cent of the skim milk is nutritious solids, the waste annually is almost incalculable. According to conservative estimates, there is produced in the United States each year and fed to swine or thrown away about twenty million pounds of skim milk which contains about one-tenth or over two hundred million pounds of nourishment, the nutritious value of which is possibly not exceeded by any other food product. The utilization in a commercial way of this enormous waste will put the country on a more sound financial basis than it has ever known. It should mean an increase in receipts from the sale of milk products in the United States of a half a billion dollars yearly.

The men who seem to have preserved milk in a pure raw state are Drs. G. I. Rochelle, A. E. Austin, Wharton B. McLaughlin and W. V. White. However, their methods, it is said, is founded upon the experiments and research of the late Dr. Lucas S. Ditt, who gave 20 years of his life in an effort to bring about the results his followers seem to have accomplished.

PETITION GIVEN TO MAYOR TODAY

OVER SIX HUNDRED SIGNED
CALLS FOR RULE BY COMMISSION.

ASKS A SPECIAL ELECTION

Which Will Probably Be Held Sometime Early in January—Has Sixty Days to Run.

Mayor Carl was this morning handed the following petition with some six hundred names attached:

PETITION FOR COMMISSION PLAN OF GOVERNMENT.

To the Mayor of the City of Janesville:

The undersigned, electors of the city of Janesville, equal in number to twenty-two per centum of the votes cast for all candidates for Mayor at the last preceding city election, respectfully petition that by reorganization as a city under Chapter 48 of the Laws of 1909 be submitted to the electors of said city at a time specified therein two months of the filing hereof.

Owing to the near approach of Christmas it is expected that the Mayor will not call the special election until some time in January probably the tenth. This will give the voters plenty of time to become thoroughly acquainted with the law and its benefits or demerits and in no way conflict with the Christmas shopping period.

The list contained over six hundred names, but five hundred are fifty being necessary under the law to call for a special election. These lists were for the most signed by persons who went to the places they were deposited for the purpose and were not collected to do so. Had a regular campaign for signatures been started there is no doubt that double the number obtained could have been easily secured.

The rule by the commission of government appears to have hit a popular thought. Those who have been enough interested in the plan to follow the articles as to how the law works in other cities where it is in operation are most pleased with its requirements and it will doubtlessly be endorsed at the polls by the Janesville voters.

KATHERINE EAGAN DECLARED INSANE

Imagined That Her Son, After Many Hairbreadth Escapes, Had Deposited $100,000 at 1st Nat'l Bank.

Mrs. Katherine Eagan, whose home is at 614 Fifth avenue, visited the First National bank one day last week and made inquiries regarding an imaginary $100,000 which she claimed her son, Glen Langdon, had brought to town from the state of Washington and placed on deposit there. It was all news, of course, to the bank officials, and after they had recovered from their astonishment they communicated with the police department with the result that an examination of the woman's mental condition was conducted by Drs. J. F. Pomber and S. B. Buckmaster on Wednesday last. In their report to Judge Sale they declared that Mrs. Eagan's mind was deranged.

The latter was unwilling to abide by the decision and demanded a jury trial. Accordingly, the court appointed Charles Reader as her attorney and ordered the hearing this morning. A jury consisting of William T. Phibbs, M. A. Edgington, Levi D. Caw, Mert J. Brennan, Orrin D. Bates, and John D. King was drawn and after the hearing the evidence returned a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Eagan was a fit person to be confined in an insane asylum.

Mrs. Eagan made no demonstration when the findings were announced but asked the court for an opportunity to arrange her household affairs before going to Mendota. It is probable that she will not be taken thither until tomorrow. The woman has had trouble with her neighbors at frequent intervals and many have long imagined her to be unbalanced mentally.

SOFT COAL CASE IS BEING TRIED TODAY

Woman Charged by North-Western Detective with Stealing Coal Has Jury Trial.

Charged with stealing soft coal from cars belonging to the North-Western railway on the morning of Nov. 8, Mrs. Ida Zastoune and her son, John, appeared in Municipal court this afternoon, where the case was tried before a jury consisting of David Lawrence, M. Callahan, W. L. Taylor, Wm. J. Murray and Lyman Morse. The state endeavored to prove through evidence procured by the road's special detective, H. B. Duffel, that the defendants stole the coal from the cars, while their attorney, T. S. Nolan, maintained that the coal was taken from the ground and that it had fallen from the car or had been thrown off by parties other than the defendants. Among the witnesses examined during the afternoon were James Clifton, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge last Saturday; James Clough, and A. L. Henningsen, agent for the North-Western Ry. Thomas Griffin was also summoned to testify.

Progress of Comet.

The changes in progress in a comet are now shown on a screen in moving pictures. Morhouse's comet was favorably situated for observation in England during last autumn, and as this body gave an unusual opportunity for studying changes the Astronomer Royal had photographs made at frequent intervals so as to obtain a cinematograph record. One series shows the alterations that took place in a period of about nine hours.

BUGGS VS. SUGAR

CO. DAMAGE SUIT

Examination of Jurors Was Commenced This Afternoon—Motion for New Trial Denied in Denoyer Case.

Judge Grimm has denied the motion for a new trial in the case of William Denoyer vs. the First National Accident Co., and the verdict of $180 for the plaintiff will stand unless an appeal is taken to a higher tribunal. This afternoon the $10,000 damage action brought by August Buggs against the Rock County Sugar Co. to recover for injuries sustained in the explosion of an evaporator two years ago, was taken up and jurors were being selected at three o'clock. Attorneys appeared at three o'clock. Attorneys J. J. Cunningham and William Ringer, Jr., represent the plaintiff and M. G. Jeffris and M. O. Mount, the defendant.

WAS COMMITTED TO MENDOTA ABOUT EIGHT MONTHS AGO AND SUBSEQUENTLY TRANSFERRED TO COUNTY ASYLUM.

On petition of the patient's mother, Judge Sale has ordered a re-examination of the mental condition of Gustav Isaacson of the town of Clinton, who was committed to the Mendota asylum about eight months ago and recently transferred to the county house. It was expected that the investigation would be made this afternoon by Drs. S. B. Buckmaster and James Gibson.

WOMAN NOT GUILTY; SCENE OF REJOICING

JURY RETURNS VERDICT FREE-ING MADAME STEINHEIL OF MURDER CHARGE.

SCENE IN COURT DRAMATIC

Prisoner Faints as Result Is Announced, But Revives and Murmurs
Her Thanks—Wild Cheering Ensues in Courtroom and Cafes.

Paris, Nov. 15.—After deliberating for two hours and a half the jury in the Steinheil case returned a verdict of not guilty, thus acquitting Mme. Steinheil of the charge of killing her husband and stepmother, Mme. Japy. Scene in Court Dramatic.

When the jury reported a dramatic scene ensued. The red-robed judges and counsel filed in and took their places. Every eye was riveted on the door through which the prisoner should enter, but she did not appear.

M. de Valles, the presiding judge, turned to the jury and said: "Have you reached a verdict?"

The foreman arose and replied: "On our conscience we answer 'No' to every question."

A salvo of "bravos" followed this announcement and a perfect bedlam broke loose. M. Aubin, counsel for Mme. Steinheil, embraced his colleagues. Men and women in the rear of the hall jumped and screamed for joy. The judge threatened to clear the courtroom, and when a semblance of order was restored he called:

"Bring in the accused."

Fully two minutes passed before the black-robed figure, with a white face drooping on her breast, appeared in the doorway, supported on either side by a physician. The woman swayed and seemed to be fainting, but in response to a wild outburst of cheers she lifted her head and looked about, smiling faintly in acknowledgment.

Then she tottered forward and sank fainting on the floor beside the rail.

Faintly murmurs her thanks. When she had been revived and the judge pronounced the verdict her faint murmur of thanks was hardly heard. An instant after M. Aubin was over the rail, lifting her in his arms. The crowds surged forward in a solid wall, making the rafters ring with cheers. Outside the gloomy court tens of thousands who had been waiting for hours took up the cry. Special editions of the papers spread the news like wildfire through the boulevards, where thousands more were waiting in front of the cafes, and the same scenes of rejoicing were witnessed there.

No sooner was Mme. Steinheil acquitted than a representative of a theatrical agency offered her, through her attorney, the sum of $20,000 for one month's appearance on the stage.

PRaises WORK OF RELIGION.

President Taft Reviews Catholic Parade—Delivers Address.

Washington, Nov. 15.—With Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Fulton standing on either side of him on the steps of St. Aloysius' church President Taft reviewed the big parade of the Catholic societies of Washington. The occasion was the golden jubilee of the church.

Proceeding the review President Taft delivered a brief address. He praised the work of religion, saying the republic owes a debt for the good churches do and declared that there can be no hostility on the part of the government toward the progress of religion in the United States.

HURLS DYNAMITE AT ROYALTY

Lord Minto and Wife Narrowly Escape Death by Bomb.

Ahmedabad, India, Nov. 15.—Lord Minto, viceroy of India, and Lady Minto, narrowly escaped death by a dynamite bomb. The bomb was hurled at their carriage, but exploded before it left the thrower's hand and his arm was torn off. A second bomb was found near the wounded man.

The police regard the explosion as the result of a revolutionary plot. This is the second effort to kill Lord Minto.

Norway's Cabinet to Resign.

Christiania, Nov. 15.—As the result of the general election going against the government, Premier Knudsen announced that at the session of parliament in January his cabinet will resign. The totals of the election, which have just been revised, show that rightists and liberals, who coalesced, won 63 seats, as against 47 for the left, or governmental party. The socialists got 11 seats.

Southern Homeopathic Meet.

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 15.—The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Southern Homeopathic Medical association opened here to-day in the auditorium of the Arlington hotel. FRUIT GROWERS OPEN BIG SHOW

Northwestern Commercial Orchardists
Have Apple Exposition at Spokane.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 15.—Commercial orchards in practically every district in the northwest, including Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia, and in other parts of the United States and Canada, are represented by exhibits at the second national apple show which opened here to-day. The management, headed by Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railway company, will distribute prizes and premiums of an aggregate value of $25,000 in competitions in 20 classes. The chief prize is the car load sweepstakes of $1,500 in gold, of which $1,000 is the first, carrying with it also the title of quality apple king of America. Sixteen entries have been made in this class.

Prof. H. B. Dorman of Washington, D. C., who has been appointed chief judge, will be assisted in making the award by four associates: H. M. Dunning of Savoy, Ill., who was presiding judge at the first show in Spokane last December; Prof. W. J. Groen, chief horticulturist at the Ohio agricultural experiment station; George J. Kellogg of Lake Mills, Wis., who has been an exhibitor since 1884, since which time he has also acted as judge at numerous national and state exhibits, and A. P. Dethman of Mosler, Ore.

In the Children's Interests.

Mrs. Emma Garrett Lloyd of Atlanta, Ga., has been active in getting signatures to the petition from the women of Georgia to the legislature demanding better education for the children of the state. More than five thousand names have been secured to the petition, and the leading workers will march with it into the hall of the house of representatives. The signers also demand that the children of Georgia be relieved from work in factories. The petition has the solid support of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Woman's Christian Temperance union and every other body of representative Georgia women.

Why the Train Was Late.

The Burlington Republican, in accounting for the Katy train being late there the other day, declares that the transportation of a lot of Emporia shiners to a camp-meeting in a town along the road was partly responsible, and lays the rest of the blame on a new whistle on the engine, which required more steam to blow than the old whistle.—Kansas City Star.

WILL LOSE OFFICE; TO INVESTIGATE

SHERIFF DAVIS, AS RESULT OF CAIRO LYCHING, TO BE OUSTED.

TALK IS STILL INFLAMED

City Must Pay Heirs of Victims $5,000 —Citizens Openly Declare They Will "Get" Alexander Who Was Removed to Champaign.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 15.—As a result of the lynching of William James, colored, and Henry Salzer here last Thursday night, Sheriff Frank J. Davis will probably lose his office and the city of Cairo be forced to pay the heirs of the lynched men $5,000.

Although the town is quiet, following the departure of all the state troops except three companies, there is much inflammatory talk heard and the citizens openly declared that they will "get" Arthur Alexander, the alleged accomplice of James in the murder of Anna Paley. If the negro ever is brought to Alexander county for trial it will be necessary to have him heavily guarded by troops.

Says Governor Must Oust Sheriff.

According to State's Attorney Alexander Wilson the state law makes it mandatory for Gov. Deneen to declare the sheriff's office vacant and instruct Comptroller James McManus to succeed Sheriff Davis.

Cairo citizens laugh at reports that the lynchings are to be investigated and the guilty leaders of the mob punished. As an indication of the feeling of perfect security that prevails throughout the city, the lynchings of James and Salzer are in general circulation and offered for sale in Cairo. Faces of men and women in the act of struggling up the accused negro are so plainly indicated that it is possible to identify them. Men also talk freely of being on the scene and hundreds of self-confessed witnesses easily can be obtained by the authorities if they really desire to investigate and punish the offenders.

Investigation is Promised.

Mayor George Parsons, Chief of Police Mark S. Egan, and State's Attorney Wilson all say there will be an investigation and that evidence against the mob leaders is now being collected. The state's attorney, however, is dubious as to anyone ever being punished for the crimes of Thursday night.

Doubtless indication that the legal machinery of the state would be started in an effort to bring the mob leaders into court came with the arrival at his home here of Judge W. N. Butler of the circuit court. He indicated that he would call a grand jury to take up the work as soon as the adjourned session of his tribunal is assembled, December 8, and said the matter would be called to the attention of the county commissioners within a few days.

Despite this announcement from Judge Butler, there was no change in the cynical attitude of the city regarding court proceedings in this district.

Half a dozen pastors lashed the constituted authorities without stint, telling their congregations that the lynchings were likely to prove a blessing in disguise in the long run.

Salzer is Buried.

Henry Salzer, the second victim of the mob, was buried at Anna. Only members of his immediate family, including his two boys, accompanied the coffin from this city. At Anna no clergyman was at the grave to commit the body to earth.

INAUGURATE PLAN FOR STRIKE

To Occur When Federation Labor Omnibus Are Jailed.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—Plans for a general strike by wage workers throughout the country for a period of two weeks, beginning on the day the officers of the American Federation of Labor are imprisoned for contempt of court were inaugurated here at a meeting of the Central Labor union.

Resolutions to this effect were unanimously adopted by the union, which represents about 75,000 workers in many lines of employment in this city.

It was decided to appoint a committee of five in this city to perfect plans by which organized labor and unorganized wage workers would unite to make the strike effective.

Large Distillery Is Burned.

Cincinnati, Nov. 15.—The large plant of the Union Distillery Company, known as the Edgemont Springs distillery, at Carthage, a suburb of this city, was burned almost completely by fire. The loss is estimated between $250,000 and $300,000, covered by insurance. With the exception of the bonded warehouse and the engine house, all buildings were destroyed. There were many explosions during the fire, and in one of these William Theobald, a volunteer fireman, was injured.

pital Attendants Guilty of Gross Carelessness.

Peoria, Nov. 15.—The coroner's jury in the inquest over the death of James McNulty, a patient of the Peoria State Hospital for the Insane at South Bartonville, returned a verdict holding Clyde Stookey and Mrs. Marie Hogan, attendants at the institution, guilty of gross negligence. McNulty died of a fracture of his ribs and a complication of pneumonia. Between Stookey and an insane patient, W. H. Henry, the infliction of the injuries lies.

According to the statements of Henry to the jury, on the night of November 1, shortly after McNulty had been brought from Dunning to Peoria, McNulty became disorderly and he was called upon by Stookey to force the Dunning patient to remain in bed. McNulty rebelled and Stookey, Henry says, kicked him several times in the ribs and struck him otherwise, McNulty being too weak to resist.

The accusations made by Henry, although heard by the jury, were not taken as testimony because of the man's insanity. Other attendants of the asylum, however, testified that Henry was capable of comprehending the difference between right and wrong. Stookey denies the charges of Henry.

Head Nurse Mrs. Marie Hogan, failed to include the episode in her report to Superintendent Zoller.

Improved Photographic Lens.

One of the latest photographic inventions is a lens by means of which a complete view all around the observer can be taken at once. It is known as a periscope lens, and enables the observer to see all around the horizon without moving. Such a lens should prove useful on board ship, in aeroplanes and in all cases where a view all around is essential. The result is attained by means of a circular ring of glass curved on the outer surface, and flat inside. By this the light from all sides is reflected down the tube which carries the lens. The periscope lens enables the photographer to take a circular picture of the view all around him. The new lens is a British invention.

To Make Yarn from Paper.

In Halmstad, Sweden, Pontus Holmstrom is about to start a spinning mill for making yarn out of paper. Such mills already exist in Germany and France. So far the manufacture of rugs and carpets seems to be the best practical use of this new paper yarn. It is stated that people in Sweden, especially in the province of Ostergotland, are already making carpets with paper felt. Narrow rolls of paper tape are used, but this, of course, is not spun.

GOOD SAMARITAN

A TRUE NEIGHBOR

HIS EXAMPLE AN EXCELLENT

ONE TO FOLLOW.

NEIGHBORLINESS DEFINED

By Rev. J. C. Hazen in Sermon, "A

Man Who Loved His Fellow

Man," at Baptist Church.

"The true spirit of neighborliness as set forth in the parable of the Good Samaritan was discussed last evening by Rev. J. C. Hazen at the Baptist church in a sermon on

"One Who Loved His Fellow Man."

The text was the reply of the young lawyer to whom Christ had told the parable: "And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go thou and do likewise."

"We have in this story of the Good

Samaritan, Christ's answer to the young man who really is his neighbor.

After reciting the story Christ

asked the young man which of the men

mentioned in the parable—the priest,

the Levite or the Samaritan—was a neighbor to the man who was wounded, the young man is forced to reply, 'He that showed mercy on him.'"

Jesus makes no comment on this at all, makes no request, 'Go thou

and do likewise.'"

"This young man had nerve to stand in the presence of Christ and ask these questions, but we are glad that he did because of the parable

Christ told.

"Some years ago Lyman Abbott,

one of the greatest, strongest and best newspapermen of the day and editor of the Outlook, gave an editorial to a noted Englishman, who after unanimously a large fortune, disposed of it and went down and worked among those not so fortunate as himself. Mr.

Abbott said that man truly loved his fellow men. He had something of the spirit of the Good Samaritan.

"Some years ago in one of the conferences of the Y. M. C. A., which colleges students were attending,

there was among them an Englishman,

named Studd, who made a great impression on all. He had been one of the best athletes of his time in Oxford, was popular socially, was gifted with wealth and came from one of the best families in England. It happened at one time he attended one of the meetings held by students interested in Y. M. C. A. work, and he heard those things which caused him to think deeply. In his fondness for cricket and other sports he had thought nothing of doing something for his fellow men. When he went home at vacation he spoke to his parents regarding his desire to begin the work,

but they cautioned him against having anything to do with those Y. M.

C. A. fellows." He gave up his possition, sacrificed all his money and it eventually led to missionary work in China. He was spending his vacation time in this country to persuade those young men to do something for their fellow men.

"We are too much interested in what we can do and get for ourselves.

We seem possessed of the one idea:

What can I gather for myself? and while we're doing it we're hastening along and passing our fellow men on the other side as the priest and the Levite did. It is a hard thing to do—to take the Good Samaritan did. It is many times a costly thing to do, but it is a self-sacrificing thing to do, but it is what this old world needs and is hungry for.

"I remember so well Professor Starr of the University of Chicago. He was regarded by many as a sort of a frank and he really has a manner of life

somewhat different from the rest of us. He wears his own style of linen, has peculiar table manners and insists in doing about what he pleases.

One day he ran into a fellow on the street and became interested in him.

He took the man to his home, gave him his supper and lodging for the night. The next morning Prof. Starr brought the young man to school with him. It caused some talk and criticism about the campus, but the professor paid no attention to this and gave the fellow what he had for months. The fellow, however, did not appreciate this and asked Professor

Starr to start him out with a horse and express wagon. So the professor got him a horse, wagon and a license and started him out. After the second day the man could not be found and it was learned later that he had sold the outfit and gone.

"It was a hard loss, but it did not make him lose heart.

"About the same time he ran onto another fellow. He felt like kicking him for what the other one had done,

but he took the man home and gave him the same treatment as he had accorded the other one. This one appreciated the professor's kindness and came out at night. We do not know what happened about the campus began to think that there was something good about Professor

Starr after all. He was something like the Good Samaritan. He has the right way with him. I wish there were more who had that same spirit. What he was doing was just showing his faith in his fellow men and his spirit of neighborliness. Too often we do not have that. Too often we are too cold-hearted.

"Where does this spirit come from?

You will have to turn to this little story and you will find its beginning in Jesus Christ. Its source and its all is in Jesus Christ.

"As soon as you catch the spirit of love for your fellow men you will grow happy. As soon as you turn from Christ you become miserable and unhappy. May God help us all to go

the right way."

While Sheriff J. W. Dalton of Por-

Saturday night looking for clues to the whereabouts of a team of horses that had been stolen last Monday night, a telephone message to the effect that the missing steeds had been located in Kenosha but that the driver had made his escape, reached the local police station. The search in this vicinity, in which Chief Apple-

by was assisting, was therefore abandoned and the men returned to Por-

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

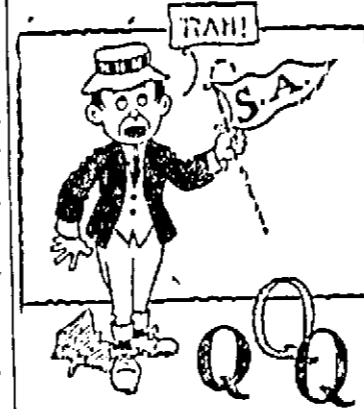

The oldest inhabitant tells us we are going to have a hard winter, BECAUSE—

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, November 15, 1860.—Jottings.—A large and distinct circle around the moon Saturday evening promised us a storm. The clouds seem to be gathering for it. A partridge flew into the window of a blacksmith shop Saturday, on the West Side, and was captured and killed. Turkey are quoted at fourteen cents a pound. The largest land holder in the United States is one Haywood of Southern Wisconsin, a young fellow of twenty-four. A strange looking animal supposed to be a bear, was seen a few evenings since on the Delavan road. It is very ferocious, attacks hares, dogs, and from appearances would devour a good sized boy in a short time. Ladies' hats are larger than they were last season being from four to five inches in width in the widest part. Miss Clark, who gets up a "love of a hat" is our authority. The light-fingered gentry are said to be doing a land office business on the railroad in this section. Snow fell to the depth of nearly two inches Saturday.

"This advertising is a business in which the worker and not the shirker meets with success."

PROUD VANDERBILT

Gladys Vanderbilt, Countess, must bow low before.

London.—Gladys Vanderbilt—Countess, Szechenyi—must bow till she sweeps the palace floor with her jeweled readress when she encounters Anita Stewart, Princess of Braganza.

This is the peculiar situation in which two American girls, former members of the same social set in New York, find themselves, and this is the peculiar and trying ordeal which the daughter of the house of Vanderbilt must undergo to the exaltation of another woman whom she used to consider her social inferior.

The two women are expected to meet shortly in Budapest, the capital of Hungary, and when they meet the rank of the Stewardess will be so immeasurably superior to that of the Vanderbilt heiress that the latter will be put in a position little short of humiliating.

The Princess of Braganza, is not merely married to royalty, pretender to a throne, and a member of one of the great modernized princely houses, but is a princess in her own right, by virtue of the degree of Austria-Hungary.

The Countess Szechenyi, however, is merely married to a noble, and Hungarian court etiquette does not recognize her as of higher rank than a commoner to her great grief, when she found herself barred from presentation at court.

The etiquette of the court will not permit the Vanderbilt countess to be seated in the presence of the Stewardess unless the latter gives permission and she must not speak until spoken to. Braganza will demand for his bride all deference due her position, and her disposition, it is said, is similar.

The meeting between the two women, therefore, promises to be interesting.

THE WONDERFUL WIRELESS

Upon request we will send a little booklet telling just how the wireless works. Everyone should learn about the wireless which is the most wonderful invention the world ever saw, and which offers everyone an opportunity to obtain wealth through the purchase of PRIME United Wireless stock. Address Reuss & Co., Harvester Building, Chicago.

French Standard "Karat"

The standard "karat" has been established in France by an act of parliament, which decrees that it shall be known as the "metric karat," and the term shall be employed to designate a weight of 3,080 grains or 200 milligrams. The use of the word to designate any other weight is prohibited. It is entirely likely that the action of the French government will be followed by several others, and the term will soon have the same significance all the world over.
